THE ROAD TO CLINICAL MASTERY

POST GRADUATE HOMEOPATHIC CERTIFICATE PROGRAM 2011-2012

EXCELLENCE IN TRAINING. SUCCESS IN PRACTICE. HOMEOPATHY FOR THE 21ST CENTURY.

Established in 1994, the Canadian College of Homeopathic Medicine (CCHM) is not only Canada's longest-running homeopathic training facility, it is the most innovative. CCHM's vision is to train homeopaths of the future for success in practice and to build a community of passionate, skilled practitioners who will bring homeopathic treatment to the forefront of healthcare. Clinical mastery is essential to a successful career in homeopathic medicine and is the focus of this one year certificate program.

The Post Graduate Program is open to all professional homeopaths and naturopaths. Lectures are offered over eight weekends from September to June. Upon completion of the program (lectures and clinical internship), registrants receive a certificate of completion and qualify for CEU credits. CCHM graduates will be awarded a fellowship designation and the use of the credential FCHM.

Lectures are taught by the mentors of our community – Kim Elia, Joseph Kellerstein, Lisa DeCandia, Monica Frohmann, Lisa Farun and Jack Gagliardi. Topics cover a fascinating range from case taking/analysis & the “second prescription” to acutes & cancer; from Scholten & Sankaran to the Old Masters. The Clinical Internship component has been designed to provide homeopaths with real world experience and training within our affiliate multidisciplinary facility BLUEPRINT Wholistic Health Clinic. Internship Clinic Supervisor Dr Violeta Nastase MD (Europe)/Homeopath & Clinic Director Kashka Kril-Atkins HBS, DHMHS, FCHM, continue the CCHM focus on excellence in training. BLUEPRINT's Internship Clinic program seeks to build confidence in case-taking, patient and clinic management skills. Through mentorship, the focus of the Internship Clinic experience will be to explore the psychology of casetaking, comparing various schools of thought within the International homeopathic community, as well as offering workshops on practice management, marketing & communications.

Graduates of the “Road to Clinical Mastery” Program are trained and empowered for success.

Tuition: $3,950.00
